

Hey there!

Why I'd be a good fit...

Creating content is my thing! I have over 4 years experience working with passionate, creative people to create the perfect copy for blogs and articles.

From music to business and lifestyle I have worked in many sectors. I have been living the enormous dream of networking and meeting new people all over the world and I'd love to write for you!

I also have experience in branding. Everything from content creation to web design, I can help!

I created a blog, where I interview women in business and review their products. I also post articles from my freelance work that I have written; its essentially a how to guide for all things women empowerment.

One of my favourite videos by Matthew Hussey is where he discusses 3 Confident Female Mindsets That Drive Guys Wild, I'm a big believer in creating a mindset that you personally weave into your own life and truly live by it.

Kind regards,

Laura Evans